9. Detailed description of the event:

This day celebrates languages and multilingualism as powerful tools for social inclusion and global development. It seeks to promote the long-term development goals of equity for all. The General Assembly of the United Nations-supported the declaration of a United Nations Day in 2002. The United Nations General Assembly encourages member states to take action to preserve and protect all languages spoken by people around the world in this resolution. Language plays an important role in bringing about change and growth in human civilization. International Mother Language Day recognizes that languages and multilingualism can advance inclusion, and the Sustainable Development Goals' focus on leaving no one behind. Based on this, the department of Malayalam encourages and promotes lingual education based on mother tongue or first language.

- 10. Outcome of the event/Evaluation by Program Coordinator: By learning about the importance of mother language day, the student community feels encouraged and motivated. Listening to any seminar or workshop helps the student to gain information about their way of work or how things take place. Also, students were asked their doubts at the end of the program and they evaluated the program as very informative and effective.
