7. Resource Person/s : Sri. Ajan K A

8. Collaborator: Government College of Teacher Education, Thycaud

9. Objective of the Program :

The objective of the five-day online training course on "E-content Development and Learning Management Systems" was to equip participants with the necessary skills to create effective e-content and effectively use Learning Management Systems (LMS) for online education. The course aimed to empower educators with the ability to adapt to the changing educational landscape by incorporating technology into their teaching methods.

10. Detailed description of the event:

The training course encompassed various aspects of e-content development and LMS usage. It was designed as an asynchronous mode program, allowing participants to access the training materials and activities at their own pace. The training incorporated practical exercises, interactive modules, and hands-on activities to ensure active participation.

Key Topics Covered:

Introduction to E-content Development: An overview of e-content and its significance in modern education, highlighting the need for effective online teaching materials.

Video Creation and Editing: Participants learned methods of recording, editing, and enhancing educational videos to make them more engaging and informative.

YouTube Uploads: Practical sessions on uploading videos to YouTube, enabling participants to share their content with students effectively.

Introduction to Learning Management Systems: An introduction to the concept of Learning Management Systems and their role in online education.

Moodle Platform: Participants were introduced to Moodle, an open-source LMS platform, and were guided through its features and functionalities.

E-content Integration: Strategies for integrating e-content into the LMS, ensuring a seamless learning experience for students.

Conclusion:

The five-day online training course on "E-content Development and Learning Management Systems" organized by IQAC of SNM College, Maliankara, in collaboration with Government College of Teacher Education, Thycaud, was a resounding success. The participants gained practical skills in creating and using e-content, as well as navigating the Moodle LMS platform. This training not only equipped educators with the tools to adapt to the digital era but also contributed to the enhancement of online teaching methodologies, ultimately benefiting the quality of education imparted to students. The collaboration between institutions in organizing such programs underscores the commitment to continuous improvement in the education sector.

11. Outcome of the event/Evaluation by Program Coordinator:

The online training course successfully achieved its objective by providing participants with hands-on experience in e-content development and LMS usage. Participants gained practical skills in creating, editing, and uploading e-content, along with the ability to navigate an open-source LMS platform, Moodle. The training enabled educators to enhance their teaching methods and offer a more engaging and effective online learning experience for their students.
