8. Objective of the Program : The objective of the programme was to extend financial assistance in kind to the needy students and staff of the college.

9. Detailed description of the event:

The PTA of the college distributed notebooks to the needy students, after the Kerala flood. The College PTA took a great step as the situation was very pathetic. In association with the Kerala Government the college distributes needy things to students and staff of the college. We distributed towels, bedsheets, biscuits, casual dresses and other stationery items to the needy students as well as staff.

10. Evaluation by Program Coordinator:

The financial assistance to students and staff in kind plays a crucial role in alleviating the financial burden faced by the students and staff families who faced severe flood situations during the year 2018. These programs provide much-needed support to ensure access to day to day activities of the college as well as home.
