8. Objective of the Program : In 2018, Kerala faced severe floods that left many people in distress. Our aim was to assist in the recovery efforts. The NSS volunteers from SNM College Maliankara teamed up with the "Re-build Kerala" initiative to gather important information about the damages faced by the residents in Chittatukara Panchayath.

9. Detailed description of the event: The floods had caused extensive damage, making the path to recovery challenging. The NSS volunteers stepped forward to support the rebuilding process. They formed groups, each comprising three dedicated students, to gather detailed information about the damages experienced by the residents.

To ensure effective organization, each group had a capable leader. These leaders stayed in regular contact with the program officer, providing updates about their group's activities and progress. In each ward, two volunteers were assigned to provide food and water to the students involved in data collection. Teamwork and coordination were essential for the initiative's success. The program officer oversaw the entire operation through a WhatsApp group. This platform served as a central hub for communication, sharing information, and offering guidance.

10. Outcome of the event/Evaluation by Program Coordinator

Students from SNM College Maliankara worked together with the Rebuild Kerala group, showing how strong teamwork is in tough times. These students gave their time and effort to help the "Re-build Kerala" plan. They really cared about people hurt by the floods, which shows how we care for our community.

The teamwork was amazing. The students got information from about 3000 houses in only two days. The help from local panchayath members was very important for the project. Students started at 9:30 AM and worked until 5 PM without stopping, to get important information. This teamwork is inspiring. It shows how strong we are when we work together. Good things happen when we care about the same goal. This project shows our community can handle tough times and make things better when we come together.
