The Second Session resumed with the Seminar session on the topic: “Indian Thoughts on Gender Equality”. The session was handled by Abhilash Mohan, a renowned journalist. He elaborated on the concept of Gender Equality in today’s society and the way to attain it in the future ahead.
- 10. Outcome of the event/Evaluation by Program Coordinator: In today’s world, when you look around there are so many different types of people. Different races, different backgrounds, and also different stories. We live in a world of diverse group of people. Some would think living in such a diverse world would form a common ground and maybe unite together to be “equal” but that is far from truth. No it’s not talking about the inequality of people based on race or background, the grouping of sex is the issue here. From the beginning to till now, cultural practices have formed these boundaries. There has always been a separation of males and females and the way they are raised and taught even to what occupations they take on. Over time these became a set of gender boundaries. The students were able to attain an overall view of the gender roles and the issues related to gender equality prevalent in the society.
