Inspire a sense of environmental consciousness and responsibility among students, encouraging them to consider their roles in protecting the oceans and the planet.
- 9. Detailed description of the event:

The seminar held on World Oceans Day 2023, titled "Seminar on Planet Ocean: the way forward," was a significant initiative organized by the Department of Zoology at SNM College Maliankara. Dr. V.P Limna Mol, an Assistant Professor in the Department of Marine Biosciences at KUFOS, delivered a comprehensive talk during the event. The seminar commenced with a warm welcome speech by Dr. Rekha Parthasarathy, Assistant Professor, HOD in charge, and coordinator of the Department of Zoology Association activities for the year 2023-24. Dr. Jitha T.H, the Principal of the College, provided a presidential address. Dr. E.C Baiju, IQAC coordinator, extended felicitation to the event and introduced the speaker.

The talk delved into the crucial role played by the oceans in regulating climate, supplying food and oxygen, and supporting diverse marine life. Dr. V.P Limna Mol highlighted the challenges faced by the oceans, ranging from human activities to habitat destruction and the overarching threat of climate change. Throughout the seminar, there were interactive sessions where students engaged with both their peers and the resource person, facilitating a dynamic exchange of knowledge. The event concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Smt Archana K.S, Assistant Professor in Zoology.

10. Outcome of the event/Evaluation by Program Coordinator:

Enhanced Awareness: The seminar successfully heightened awareness among participants, particularly students, about the crucial role oceans play in regulating climate, providing sustenance, and supporting marine ecosystems.
